LAND OF GIANTZ ACADEMY

Sergio Cavalieri
Founder Biography

APPROVED SHORT BIO

Sergio Cavalieri is a Grammy-nominated producer, filmmaker, luthier, and founder of Land of Giantz Academy. His work connects the discipline of the recording studio, the storytelling language of film, and the patient craft of instrument building.

APPROVED MEDIUM BIO

Sergio Cavalieri has spent two decades working in studios from Brooklyn to Sao Paulo, producing, mixing, and writing records across rock, soul, Latin music, and film score. A two-time Grammy nominee, documentary filmmaker, and working luthier, he founded Land of Giantz Academy to make apprenticeship-level creative education available beyond the walls of elite studios and workshops.

APPROVED LONG BIO

Sergio Cavalieri is a Grammy-nominated producer, filmmaker, luthier, and creative founder whose career spans recording studios, documentary sets, and the instrument workshop. Over two decades, he has produced, mixed, and written records across rock, soul, Latin music, and film score while developing a parallel practice in documentary filmmaking and custom guitar building.

He created Land of Giantz Academy around a simple conviction: mastery is transmitted through lineage, attention, and real work. The Academy brings students inside the decisions, methods, and environments of active creative professionals through cinematic courses, guided learning paths, community, and mentorship.
